DEATH OF COL. BUELL.

Newspaper Writer, Formerly of Washington, Passes Away.

Col. August C. Buell, formerly a news paper man of this city, died at a hospital in Philadelphia yesterday, he having been under treatment there for about a week. Colonel Buell was widely known as a newspaper man and a writer of history. Colonel Buell came to this city at the time Don Platt was editing the Capital, and after working on that paper for a time he purchased it. When the Washington Critic passed into the hands of Colonel Brady that paper was placed in charge of Colonel Buell, who managed it during the star route trials. During the trial he was brought before the court, on a charge of libel. Colonel Buell was born at Norwich, N. Y.

Colonel Buell was born at Norwich, N. Y., September 4, 1847. He was educated in the public schools and ran away from home in 1863 to enlist in the 9th Artillery, serving with the army of the Potomac until the end of the civil war. He was a gallant soldier and won rapid promotion. Then he studied civil engineering, graduating in 1867 from Cazenovia Seminary, and followed that profession until 1873, when he entered the field of journalism.

Later he became private secretary to Charles H. Cramp, holding that position until almost a year ago. Colonel Buell was the auther of several books, his "Life of John Paul Jones" being a standard work.

John Paul Jones" being a standard work.

His widow and one son survive.

Colonel Buell was a member of the Pen and Pencil Club, and will be buried on Wednesday in the plot of that organization in Mount Moriah cemetery.

ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED.

D. A. R. Chapter's Unique Tribute to Dolly Madison.

celebrated the one hundred and thirty-sixth apriversary of the birth of Dolly Madison at the home of its regent, Miss Mallett, 145 Rhode Island avenue, Friday evening, May 20. The garden presented a pretty picture with its plants, shrubbery, lanterns, seats, hammocks and orchestral music, and the house was gay with flags and flowers. H STREET NORTHWEST between 6th and 7th streets—John C. Pennie, trustee, to P. J. Nee Company, part original lot 15, square 454; $4,250.

NO. 922 T STREET NORTHWEST—Ida M. Daly to Alice V. Daly, lot 225, square 362: $10 The regent gave an epitome of Dolly Madison's life, and introduced Miss Shelton to represent her as a Quaker miss, at fifteen years of age; Miss Strider, as maiden, at twenty-one years of age; Miss Gould as bride of Mr. Todd; Miss Anna Shaw as bride of Mr. Todd, Miss and muslin folds, as the charming Widow Todd; Mrs. Tonge, as wife of Madison when Secretary of State; Miss Tullock, in gray and yellow, crowned with one of Dolly's gorgeous tur-bans with its famous nodding plumes, as Mrs. Custis, with cap and stomacher and kerchief at a later period, when her home was in the house now occupied by the Cosmos Club. Vocal solos by Miss Bangs and a piano solo by Miss Strider were greatly enjoyed Master Shelton gave the flag salute adopted by the chapter, and Miss Tullock, the chap-ter historian, read an original poem which added charm to Dolly. Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. McNabb displayed ancestral snuff boxes, capes, card cases, needlework, bead-work, pewter, china, etc., of a hundred and nore years ago. Besides the usual refreshments of ic cream, cakes, almonds, punch, etc., a birth-day cake, surrounded by 136 candles, was ut and served by Dolly's seven represen tatives.

New Houses Burned. A bright blaze in two new houses, 184 and 1843 Kalorama avenue, attracted the attention of Policeman Kennedy and others about 3 o'clock this morning. Kennedy turned in an alarm from box 81 and sev eral companies of the fire department responded. By the time the firemen reached the buildings the flames had made con siderable headway, and there was every indication that both buildings would be destroyed. No time was lost in getting to work, and the men succeeded in getting the fire under control before the buildings had been totally destroyed. The damage is estimated at about $3,000. E. M. and D. O. Sunderland own the property. It is O. Sunderland own the property. It is thought that electric light wires caused the fire, according to the report of the police.

Wednesday; light variable winds.

Weather conditions and general forecast—
The principal disturbance this morning is central over Wyoming. It extends eastward to lows and westward to Nevada. The Lake Superior disturbance has moved rapidly eastward to the mouth of the St. Lawrence, greatly diminished in intensity. An area of high pressure of considerable magnitude covers the extreme northwest, and pressure is relatively high, over the lake region, the middle, south Atlantic and east guif states.

There have been showers in the Ohio valley, the lower lake region, middle Mississippi valley, Missouri valley and over the northern Rocky mountain slope. In the last named district rain has turned to snow, with temperatures close to the freezing point. It is decidedly colder in Montana and the north Pacific coast states. Colder weather also prevails in the middle Mississispipi valley and upper lake region; elsewhere the temperatures are above the seasonal average.

Showers are indicated for Wednesday in

The winds on the Atlantic coast will be mostly fresh westerly; on the east gulf coast light southerly, and on the lower lakes light variable, becoming fresh east-
